

The City of San José is exploring a Community Choice Aggregate (CCA) program, San José Clean Energy (SJCE).

CCA allows local governments to pool (or aggregate) their electricity load to purchase and/or develop renewable power on behalf of their residents and businesses.

Potential Benefits:

- Choice in your electricity provider
- More renewable energy options for residents and businesses
- Set spending priorities based on local needs
- Create local jobs

San José is considering establishing a renewable energy utility for our community.
